

Special Lecture & Discussion Session

with Yonsei University, Korea

Call for Applications

2025

9/26(Fri) @ ILAS Building, Multipurpose Room
in the basement

9:00 - 13:00

*The lecture and discussion will be in English.

This Intercultural Co-Learning Seminar will bring together students from Yonsei University and Kyoto University. As a side event for Kyoto Summer Program (KSP) 2025, the seminar provides an opportunity for the two groups of students to learn together, gain diverse perspectives, and forge new friendships. All Kyoto University students are welcome to join, regardless of their past participation in the KSP.

Schedule:

- ① 9:00 ~9:25 Opening Ceremony
- ② 9:30 ~11:00 Special Lecture
- ③ 11:00~13:00 Joint Discussion Session

Joint discussions will be held between Yonsei University students and Kyoto University students on common topics facing countries around the world. Specific topics will be announced later to participants.

Fumitaka WAKAMATSU, Program-Specific Associate Professor,
Institute for Liberal Arts and Sciences, Kyoto University

Whaling in Japan: Cultural Politics of Food and Conservation

Introduction: as a cultural anthropologist, Prof. Wakamatsu has studied the conflict between wildlife conservation and food use, focusing on the controversy over whaling in Japan. He explores the essential question of why humans decide what to eat and what not to eat from the history of whaling and changes in dietary patterns.

Registration:

◆Deadline: Sep.24, (Wed) 2025. 5:00pm

◆Application Form: <https://forms.gle/sSzEfpaJ3x3JzX7i8>

