

On the Priority of Relational Ontology: Heidegger's Being-With and Ethics of Care

Prof. WU Shiu-Ching
(National Chung Chen University, Taiwan)

Abstract

In this talk, I offer a proposal to ground care ethics on relational ontology by using Heidegger's ontological analysis of Dasein as Being-With.

To that purpose, I will introduce Heidegger's fundamental ontology in general, and moves on to elaborate his conception of Dasein in terms of 'care' (Sorge) and 'concern for others' (Fürsorge). From there, I will make explicit how Heidegger's fundamental ontology can enrich the ontology of relationships ushered by care ethicists.

Ethics as the Learning Goal of Business Education : The Standard of AACSB Accreditation

Prof. LIN Wen-chang

Abstract

In this talk, I address the role of ethics as the major learning goal for students in Taiwan's business schools under the AACSB accreditation currently also pursued by a large number of business schools in Asia countries. I will also briefly introduce the newly developed "financial ethics" and discuss the possible collaboration between business schools and humanity schools.
