

Special Lectures

Faculty of Letters, Graduate School of Letters

Transformation of the Vietnamese Society: in the context of modernization and globalization

Prof. Dang Nguyen Anh

Prof. Vu Manh Loi

Institute of Sociology,
Vietnam Academy of Social Sciences,
Vietnam

Prof. Dang Nguyen Anh will focus on migration (Oct.10,17)

This lecture is designed to provide a foundation in the complex nature of the migration process, and to underscore the importance of migration for understanding social change. It draws on readings and on recent examples of excellent research on migration in population studies (broadly conceived) and to a lesser extent in Sociology. In addition to these learning goals, the lecture is also designed to help students produce a written essay that will be useful for the current stage in graduate school.

Prof. Vu Manh Loi will focus on the family and people's life
(Oct.24,31)

Transformation of Marriage and the Family in Changing Viet Nam.
The lecture includes presentation of (1) socio-demographic structural changes of marriage and the family in Viet Nam during the past 50 years, and (2) changes in family values and relations associated with the structural changes.

Thursday October 10, 17, 24, 31, 2013 13:00~16:15
Room L521 (Faculty of Letters)