

Report on Participation in [Indonesia Field Research Trip]

ZHU Ran

D2 (as of September 2013)

East Asia Course

Graduate School of Economics

1. To Make Cooperation Relationship

The Indonesia field research trip is from September 15th 2013 to September 21th 2013. That is the first research trip to Indonesia by Graduate School of Economics, Kyoto university. This trip is to make up friendship with Gadjah Mada University.

2. In Yogyakarta

At first, we visited the historian city of Indonesia, Yogyakarta, where the Gadjah Mada University located. In the university, there was a joint academy assembly of the two universities. At the academy assembly, participants from both universities made a good communication.

Photo1: the electricity car made by Gadjah Mada University

After the visit of Gadjah Mada University, we visited the palace of Yogyakarta. In the palace, there are many old men guarded the palace and the king as volunteers. We learned the former king is a very good king loved by the people.

Photo2: people welcomed the former king in Bali island

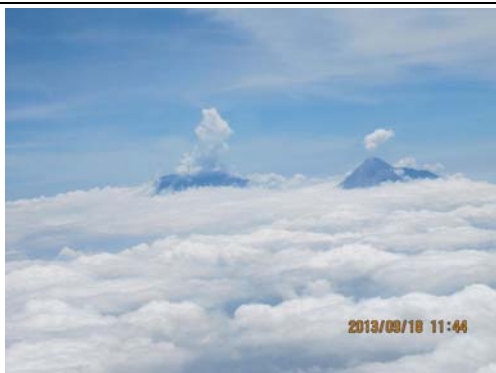

Photo3: volcanoes of Yogyakarta

3. In Yakarta

We visited the Japan foundation, Japan education information center, Japan club in Yakarta. We learned most Indonesia students who go oversea elected Australia, but Japan is also popular despite high prices level. In Japan club, we learned the lack of infrastructure is a big problem of firms in Indonesia.

Photo4: part of Yarkata city nearby the railway station